OUR STORY

The visible connectors under the sink are an absolute no-go for all interior designers and have to be laboriously hidden with elaborate covers. Since 2018, there has been a solution to the problem:

WONDA! Our innovative system gives you absolute architectural freedom and helps you to create truly luxurious designs and settings. Furthermore, its unique structure is barrier-free, supporting inclusive design from the ground up.

OUR VISION

To replace conventional washbasins with our innovative WONDA technology!

The WONDA sink system provides a completely new opportunity to design your bathroom and toilet in a unique way. The unmistakable design of the sink is characterized above all by the integration of the water and drain connections in the installation box. On account of that, only the sink is visible, which lends the construction particular charm and aesthetic.

POSITION

STANDARD

ANA & ONO

Their unmistakable design is characterized primarily by the integration of the water and wastewater connectors within the installation box.

As a result, only the washbasin is visible, giving the construction a unique aesthetic. Using state-of-the-art CNC technology, we were able to reduce the material thickness to a minimum of 7 millimeters.

Both the oval basin ONO and the rectangular basin ANA are distinguished by their exceptionally flat design. The clearly defined surfaces and edges interact with the ambient light, providing a stage for various types of stones.

Despite their minimalist design language, they manage to convey emotions through their impeccable designs.

BRAND NEW

CORE

Pure clarity – Practical elegance

With CORE, WONDA introduces a new kind of washbasin model – one that strips things down to what truly matters. Clean lines, generous shelf space, and a wider body define its look. CORE is straightforward and confident, offering a functional alternative to our more design-oriented ANA and ONO lines.

Whether in natural stone or mineral-based solid surfacematerial, CORE delivers on both visual presence and everyday practicality. Its pared-down aesthetic makes it an ideal choice for those who prefer clarity over flourish – without sacrificing quality or style.

CORE embodies the essence of WONDA: timeless, clever, and architecturally free. And just like all our models, it can be adapted to fit your exact needs – because good design should work for you, not the other way around.
